

Connecticut Science Center

Hartford, Connecticut

Photo by Lanny Nagler for the Connecticut Science Center

This 150,000 SF science education facility, built on a 2.5-acre site adjacent to the Convention Center in downtown Hartford, mirrors and embodies science and technology in all its spaces.

CSC's Board of Trustees approved the full Master Plan, prepared by White Oak, including White Oak's conceptual framework and Rich Grief's (then at JSI, Inc.) Visitor Research Analysis. White Oak's Mark Peterson and Victor Becker prepared the Giant Screen Theater Performance Potential Analysis and the Architectural Room Book, respectively.

Photos by Jeanie Stahl

Client: Connecticut Science Center

Capital Cost: $177million

Open: 2009

Architect: Pelli Clarke Pelli Architects

White Oak's Role: Concept Plan, Master Plan, Visitor Research and Room Book

White Oak Associates, Inc.

Museum & Theater Planners & Producers